VOLUME IV NUMBER 422 LA CROSSE WISCONSIN, MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1908. PRICE TWO CENTS

FIRE COMPANIES RENDERING INACCURATE REPORTS TO STATE

DISCOVERY MAY MEAN $18,000 NET

PROPER PERCENTAGE OF GROSS RECEIPTS NOT PAID

REINSURED WITH OTHER COS.

And Owing to the Fact Latter Were Unauthorized Deduction Should Not Have Been Made

MADISON, Wis., April 27.—(Special.)—The discovery by Insurance Commissioner Beedle fire insurance companies in the state, principally in Milwaukee, have been rendering inaccurate reports to the department in the past three years will lead at once to an investigation, which may bring at least $18,000 into the state treasury.

According to Mr. Beedle the companies have not paid the full amount of taxes due the state. The discovery was made several days ago while examining the reports of fire companies' taxes to be paid on the business of 1907. Similar mistakes have been discovered in reports for 1905 and 1906.

The law provides that fire insurance companies, authorized to do business in the state must "pay a tax of four per cent on the amount of gross premiums received during the preceding year in this state." From this gross amount shall be deducted the amount paid to any authorized company for the reinsurance of risks located in this state.

It was discovered that many of the companies had reinsured in other companies which were not authorized but that the deduction was made, just as if the companies were in reality authorized.

CRAFT GETS $6.00 CONSCIENCE MONEY

C. L. Craft Milwaukee freight agent, received a letter this morning inclosed in which was a five and one dollar bill. The letter was without a signature and was postmarked La Crosse. It is as follows:

April 25, 1908.

Gents:—Enclosed find six dollars for ride I took from La Crosse to Milwaukee. The rate was 3c per mile at the time. I do not think it right to ride without paying, therefore I take great pleasure in sending you same, thanking you for the fast freight ride. Had the ride about 8 years ago.

(No signature.)

The letter was evidently mailed in La Crosse. Mr. Craft says that this is the first contribution to the "Conscience fund" that has even been received at the local office.

SERVICES FOR PROF. ALFRED ZIMMER

The funeral of the late Prof. Alfred A. Zimmer was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Masonic Temple. Rev. D. A. Thomas conducted the services and the following members of the Masonic lodge acted as pall bearers: W. W. Holcomb, W. H. Tarbox, J. A. B. Grisdale, O. H. Berg, A. L. McIntosh and Ori Sorrenson.

The funeral was largely attended by friends and fellow-employees of the deceased and the Masonic ceremonies were used.

Following the ceremony the body was taken to the Burlington depot and shipped to Brimley, Ontario, for interment. David Zimmer, father of deceased, accompanied the body.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR DEAD DUKE

PARIS, April 27.—Solemn requiem mass was celebrated at the church of St. Philippe du Roule over the body of the late Duc de Chaules today, after which the corpse was removed to the historic Chaules home, the chateau d'Ampliere. Service will be held at the chateau tomorrow and the remains will then be laid in the d'Ampliere mortuary chapel with those of his ancestors.

FLEE BUBONIC PLAGUE.

WILLEMSTAD, April 27.—Every one who can possibly leave Venezuela is doing so, in desperate haste in anticipation of the bubonic plague epidemic, which will close all the ports and cut off escape. The appearance of two cases at Caracas principally, threatens the epidemic may spread throughout the country, creating a general panic. Porto Caballo is swarming with refugees. Fabulous prices are being offered for steamship passages.

JOSEPH M. HIXON WIRES HE ACCEPTS BOARD PRESIDENCY

TELEGRAM FROM PASADENA SAYS HE WILL ACT

ARE ALL OF ONE CHURCH

Peculiar Circumstance Discovered That Every Member of Board Belongs to Christ Church

Joseph M. Hixon has accepted a membership in the park board and the presidency of that body.

By letter from Pasadena under date of April 22, he accepted the membership on the board to which he was appointed, by Mayor Anderson, and by telegram dated April 26 he confirmed that acceptance and accepted the presidency, to which he was elected unanimously last Saturday.

Urges Progress Now.

In his letter Mr. Hixon expressed to Mr. L. F. Easton his pleasure in being appointed to a board the personnel of which is so agreeable to him, and he urged that the members who are now in La Crosse proceed with the preliminaries of outlining the summer's work, so that his absence, which will of necessity be prolonged until some time in May, need not interfere with the immediate progress of the board's plans.

All of a Church.

Today Rev. C. N. Moller was having his little joke. He said he expected that the grounds of Christ church would soon become a bower of beauty. "The park board is a member of my church," he said. Messrs. Colman, Hixon, Gund and Easton all have pews there.

STORM STILL BREWS; IOWA IS HAIL SWEEP; RECORD IS APPALING

MOBILE, Ala., April 27.—The storm that did so much damage and caused so many deaths in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi, is still hovering over this section, according to reports received today. More damage was done last night and all the railroads report wires down. A tornado is reported to have struck the town of Causeville, 18 miles north of Meridian, Miss. A hailstorm visited Mobile and many surrounding towns, and 19 more deaths are reported in Perry county, Miss. A large number of those injured in the tornado are being brought into this city. Traffic on the Southern railway may not be resumed for several days on account of washouts.

The Whole Sad Story.

The sum total of the damage done is briefly summarized as follows:

Killed, about 350.

Injured, painfully or seriously, 1,200.

Homeless, several thousands.

Towns reporting serious wrecking, 46.

Habitations and business houses practically complete ruins in these towns, about 2,500.

Iowa Storm Victim.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., April 27.—Hundreds of thousands of dollars damage was done early this morning by a severe snow and hailstorm which swept Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska. The plum and cherry crops were completely ruined and the apple crop was badly damaged, as the fruit trees were in full bloom.

Storm in Northwest.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 27.—The northwest was visited by a heavy snowstorm last night and today. In some parts of St. Paul the street car service is crippled. The snow melted rapidly. In the country districts, however, the ground is covered with several inches. Superior, Wis., got one of the heaviest snow storms of the year last night, and traffic there was interfered with.

COMMITTEE IN SESSION.

The claims committee of the county board is in session at the court house this afternoon.

SYMPTOMS OF A SPRING MALADY EPIDEMIC IN LA CROSSE

S.S.S. FORTY YEARS SUCCESSFUL SERVICE

When a medicine has stood the test for a period of more than two generations and is then more popular than ever, there can be no doubt of its merit. This is the record of S. S. S. Its period of existence is marked by a long line of cures of blood and skin diseases of every character, and its value in the treatment of such troubles has become so well known that it is today the most extensively used blood medicine on the market. For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases and all other troubles due to an impure or poisoned condition of the blood, S. S. S. has no equal. It counteracts and drives out the poisons, humors and germs, cleanses the system of all unhealthy matter, cures the disease permanently and restores strong, robust health. Where the blood is weak or anemic, and unable to furnish the body with the nourishment and strength it needs, S. S. S. supplies it with the healthful properties and acts splendidly in toning up and reinvigorating the system. It goes down to the very bottom of all blood disorders, and in this way reaches inherited taints on which the ordinary blood medicines have no effect. Not only is S. S. S. certain in its results, but it is at the same time an absolutely safe remedy. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks of known healing and curative value. It does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form to damage the delicate parts of the system, and may be used by children with the same good results and perfect safety as by older people. It is not an experiment to use S. S. S.; it is a remedy with a record and one that has proven its worth by its forty years of successful service. If you are in need of a blood purifier for any cause begin the use of S. S. S., write our physicians and they will send you a book concerning your trouble, and will give without charge any special medical advice that is required.

SMILING FACES

take the place of pained expressions when the teeth have been properly attended to. It is astonishing what a great difference the teeth make in one's general appearance. As the song goes, "Oh, what a difference just a few teeth make!" It is the same in old and young. Missing or decayed teeth give a very bad appearance to the countenance, but we can rectify this defect in short order if you will bring your face to us for our expert attention.

The American Nation A History

An entirely new work, seven years in the making. The work of author-scholars from twenty universities. Edited by Albert Bushnell Hart, Professor of History, Harvard. With the co-operation of four state historical societies. The first American Historical Atlas—186 special maps. The standard work—of value for all time.

Harper & Brothers, for 91 years publishers of books, believe this is their greatest achievement. From Original Sources

This is the only history dealing with every field of our national life. Our political, economic, religious, industrial, financial, and social life is set forth side by side and in their relation one with another.

The careful selection of authors who could write brilliantly as well as with scholarship and insight has made it possible to carry the story of America through twenty-seven volumes with the glow and spirit of romance. It is, above all—interesting.

The volumes are of crown-octavo size, in two styles of binding: (1) Red polished buckram, stamped in gold, with dark-blue leather labels; (2) Persian half-morocco of a rich crimson, stamped in gold, with cloth sides and special end-papers. Gilt tops, untrimmed edges, headbands, etc.

Send us this coupon and let us mail you—absolutely without cost—our 32-page-booklet, which shows why this history is better than all other histories combined. It contains sample pages, illustrations, and maps. Send the coupon today.

"The reader who possesses these volumes has before him the choice output of modern scholarship in American history."—N. Y. Sun.

"The 'American Nation,' adds another and perhaps the best to the long list of histories of the United States, in whole or in part."—Springfield, Mass., Republican.

"A scholarly work in popular style."—N. Y. Times.

350 ACRES OF PEAS NEAR ONALASKA

About 350 acres of peas are being sown in the vicinity of Onalaska at present, 50 acres of which belong to the Onalaska Canning company which handles the entire crop in that section. Recently the best peas were grown on French Island, but as there is no bridge over which to haul them the farmers have ceased to plant them this year.

And Succeed in Getting Two Men in Present

The Colts won from the Viroqua team at the league park in a one-sided game in which the runs and hits were almost all on the side of the former yesterday. The score at the conclusion of the ninth inning stood 9 to 2 in favor of the Colts. An infield hit by Johnson, who had fanned the air at his first two appearances at the plate, coupled with an error by Minor allowed two to cross the plate for the first and last time during the game. This occurred in the seventh inning. Chase on a scratch hit reached first and stole second. Gosling fanned and Barlow with another scratch hit reached first and repeated Chase's act in getting to second, with Chase on the third plate. Johnson tipped an infield hit and in his haste to catch the runner at home, Minor dropped the ball, allowing both Chase and Barlow to cross the plate.

The rest of the game was simple for the Colts. Bailes and Wolford held them at their mercy the entire time.

Johnson started the game in the box for the Vernonites and in the four innings that he pitched allowed seven runs. The climax of a freak affair in the fifth inning, when Barlow relieved Johnson in the box. Heppel was the first to bat and was given a pass. Freckman was next with a similar agreement and Minor proved to be a good walker. With three men on bases Killian came to bat ready to make a home run. He pounded out a pretty one to the right field that looked like a sure hit for at least three scores. The ball went low and the coaches gave the signal to run, but Gosling, the center fielder, made one of the prettiest catches of the game and threw to second to Hallet, who, after putting out Freckman, completed a triple play by catching Whitewings at first. Whitewings having been put in to run for Minor. The play was one of the prettiest executed on the diamond during the game.

WORLD'S RECORD IN POLE VAULT BROKEN

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 27.—The feature Saturday of the University of Pennsylvania athletic carnival on Franklin field was the breaking of the world's record for the pole vault by N. R. Dray of Yale, whose mark was 12 feet 6 1/4 inches, just one inch over the previous record held by himself.

Shaw of Dartmouth also came in for hearty applause when he equalled the 120 yard hurdle record of .15-1-5.

The Michigan team scored a great victory in the two-mile relay championship race, the principal event of the meet.

EASTERN REGATTA HOPE OF VARSITY

MADISON, Wis., April 27.—Wisconsin oarsmen have their eyes glued on a Poughkeepsie regatta, and the particular objective point of their perspective is the head end of the procession of the intercollegiate race. Not only in the varsity race do the Badgers hope to land well toward the front, but the Wisconsin freshmen are rowing in such excellent form for this time of the year, that it would occasion little surprise among the backers of the Cardinal oarsmen if the Badger youngsters should again bring a championship trophy to Madison.

EIGHT PRETZELS GIVEN RELEASE

FREEPORT, Ill., April 27.—Manager Thomas Schoonhoven's squad of Pretzels is fast assuming the shape in which it will fight the coming season's battle for another pennant. Eight men have already been released, and at least three more will be handed their green papers within a few days. Those who have already been released are Pitchers Limoges, of Jefferson, S. D.; Ducker, of Clinton, Ia., and Barry of Chicago; and Outfielders Louck, Frain, Green and McNellis, who claim Chicago as their home. Barry and Frain were signed by Duluth, Minn. Catcher Forsythe, while not released, is quietly looking for another job, but his brother, the pitcher, is a fixture with the champions. Schoonhoven has notified Catcher Hannah that he need not report. Outfielder Disch of Milwaukee, who led the league last year in hitting, rejoined the team Saturday in fine fettle for work. He is the last player to arrive. Outfielder Safford, last year with Oshkosh and recently released by Fort Wayne of the Central league, will be a Pretzel this year if negotiations now pending with Schoonhoven result successfully.

Dubuque comes today for three games, and Thursday Clinton returns. Duluth will be here May 1, 2 and 3.

Save Time and Money

An automobile will save enough of a busy man's time to pay for itself in a year. You can save two-thirds of the time you now spend in street cars or behind horses.

You can make three or four times as many calls as you now do in a day. And when the day's work is done, you can give endless pleasure to your family and your friends with a

Rambler

I can prove this time-saving proposition to your absolute satisfaction. I know what a Rambler will do—and how little it costs to keep it going.

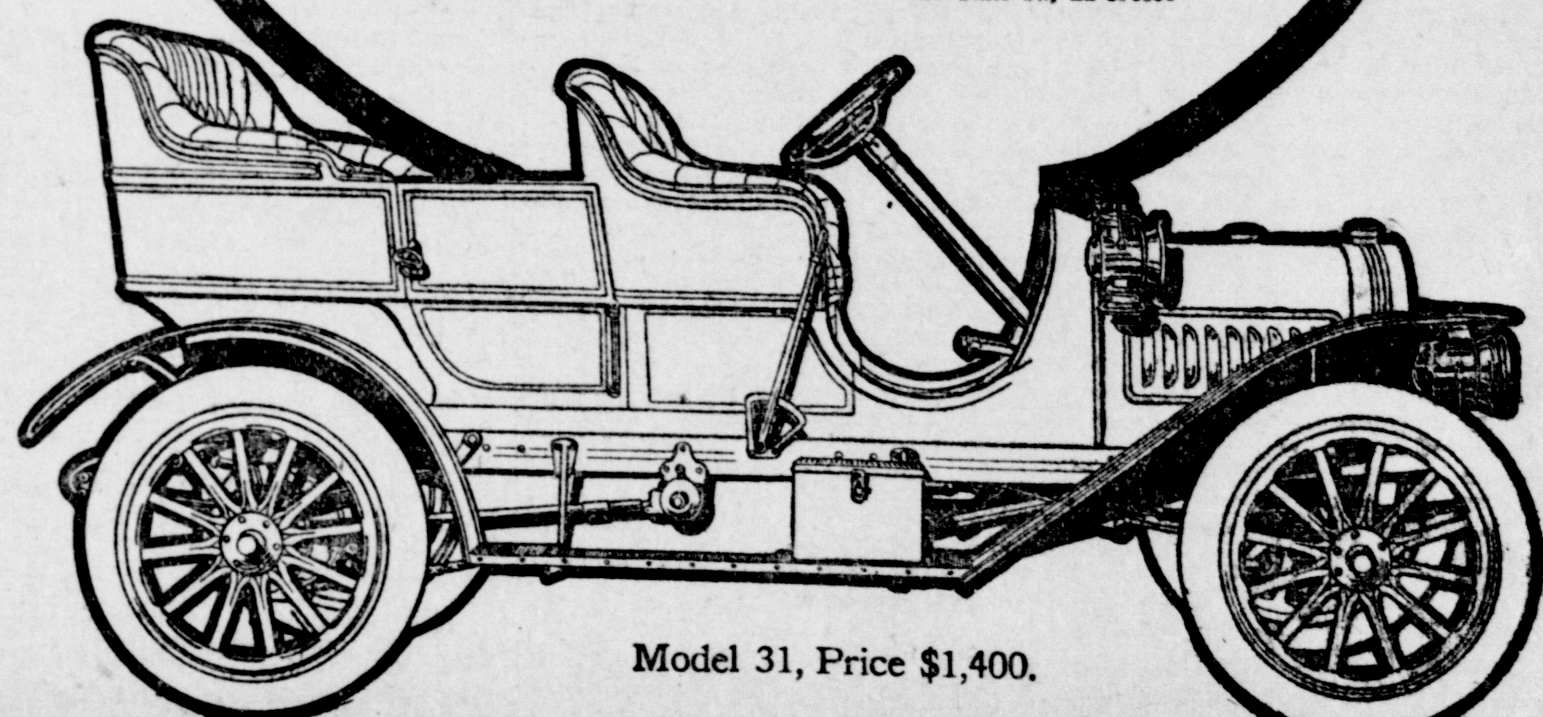

I want the privilege of placing these facts before you convincingly.

I am not asking you to buy a car—I simply want you to know that the Rambler is a money-saver instead of an expense-maker. When can I see you?

FOUNTAINS FOR THE SCHOOLS.

The proposal of the board of education to place drinking fountains in the grammar schools will have undivided endorsement.

The picture of some hundreds of thirsty children crowding excitedly about a single pail of water, dipping their faces to the noses in it, sweaty, impetuous little folk who don't know or care how many germs they swap so long as they get a dipper of the stuff before the bath is completed and the bottom of the pail looms up through the dress, is one that reflects great possibilities in the line of dissemination of disease, and that the "cloak room" water pail is to be put out of commission is good news.

Possibly the conclusion that artesian water, because of its scarcity, cannot be had for this purpose is correct, but it may be that a close analysis of the situation would show that consumption of artesian water in other directions might be cut off in order to give it to the schools. In any event, the action proposed by the school board is wise, and sanitary conditions will be promoted by it.

"THE CITIES BEAUTIFUL."

"The city beautiful" is becoming an insistent idea in the minds of the active men of our progressive municipalities, and the establishment of a park board for La Crosse inspires the thought that this community will not be left behind in the onward sweep of a great program by which it is proposed that the aesthetic in America shall not longer be dwarfed by the commercial.

Down in Milwaukee just now the "river beautiful" is the all absorbing topic, there having been begun there a movement to beautify the river front. Discussing the impetus behind this movement, and the general appreciation in the whole country of the desirability of municipal beautification, the Free Press says some things that are becoming pertinent here, as follows:

"Municipal patriotism coupled with a degree of aesthetic appreciation are the stimuli most important toward the beautifying of a city's physical vestment, and it is just because these are so active in the municipalities of continental Europe and so dormant in America that the cities of the two continents offer such glaring contrasts."

"The native of these states, when called upon to make known his origin in foreign parts, proudly proclaims that he is an American. The German, for instance, when put to the same test, takes no less pride in declaring that he is a Berliner, a Hamburger or a Bremer. The one thinks first of his country, the other of his city."

"It is far from our belief that love and pride of country should be relegated to a place inferior to love and pride of community. It seems that both could prevail in the same individual and with equally beneficial results. What we wish to emphasize is this, that the intense civic patriotism of the German has resulted in a state of municipal advancement—administrative, social and aesthetic in the average American city of size in America."

"It would be folly to expect such a spirit in the average American city of size; it is too young, the majority of its citizens not even identified with its interests for one generation back. The feeling of solidarity, of permanence, of something peculiarly characteristic, common to the dwellers in an old and honorable European community, has not yet had time to develop."

"The big American city merely spells money-making opportunity to its younger denizens, who have poured into it from farm and hamlet to find that opportunity. They have the subconscious feeling of transients and the city, as an ideal thing to be fostered and beautified for the mere love of it apart from any financial advancement to them, does not enter their heads."

"This desire to turn everything to gain, coupled with the lack of aesthetic perception—over the bane of new lands, low in culture, but high in materialistic accumen—is the further stumbling block in the way of attaining the beauty in the American city's appearance. To the German, with his keen delight in the charm of nature, it is self-evident that his house or his store should face the river that he and his fellow citizens may enjoy its changing surface as a relief to the stolid works of man round about. The average American has no such thought. He sees in the stream merely a carrier of boats and a convenient dumping ground; so he backs his building up against and befools it with refuse."

"An eloquent commentary on this viewpoint are the arguments frequently advanced by the promoters of the 'river beautiful,' that it would be a 'good investment,' that it 'will pay in the end'—ever holding out a material inducement for a work that should have in itself no other reward than the attainment of beauty."

"Just as fast as the citizens of our great metropolises become imbued with the spirit of municipal patriotism, and develop an aesthetic together with a commercial vision, just so fast will these cities become things of beauty—the grand, inspiring vestments of mighty human activities."

THE BEST OF THE "MATCHES."

The sorrow of the Duchess de Chaulnes is the sorrow of a nation that its daughters spurn its verile young men to wed the degenerated offspring of an effete nobility.

There have been enough object lessons of this sort, but they seem not to impress Uncle Sam's young women. Anna Gould, after a disastrous experience with one of France's most dissolute society members, is about to wed another whose personality is so steeped in viciousness as to make her former debauch seem a saint in comparison. Gladys Vanderbilt, with "gone and done it," and another Vanderbilt woman (by marriage) old enough to know better is about to swap her widowhood for a prospective divorce suit.

In the case of the Shonts girl, it is said, it was a real love match, so all France and half of America is sympathetic. But what a commentary of the average "foreign alliances" it is that this best of the matches is that of a pure girl to a man whose life has been shattered by excesses and the use of drugs which it is France's proud boast he renounced out of love for the girl, and abstinence from the use of which is said to have hastened the dissolution of his disordered life.

The infatuation which Americans have for titles and court glamour, however, is happily largely confined to the ranks of the idle rich, and in most cases that class of our society has so long drifted toward moral chaos that in many cases the lord or earl or count gets little the better of his bargain—barring always the money he gets "to boot."

New York democrats are trying to pry loose the grip Murphy's Tammany hand has upon the party's throat, and while the effort is a tardy one, they will have the sympathy of a public that believes their attempt is "better late than never."

Pink's champs have begun the season auspiciously, each section of the team handily defeating a strong opponent yesterday.

The Critic

A painter was praising the other day the artistic taste of John G. Johnson, the famous Philadelphia lawyer. Mr. Johnson has collected one of the finest private galleries in the world and as a connoisseur he has few living equals.

"A young impressionist," said the painter, "got John G. Johnson to visit his studio last year. He showed his latest picture and tried to get Mr. Johnson to buy it. But Mr. Johnson would have none of it. He said politely that he thought the picture was not good."

"This so annoyed the impressionist that he let his temper get the better of him. He said hotly:

"After all, Mr. Johnson, what do you know about pictures? You never painted any."

"My dear sir," the lawyer retorted, smiling, and rubbing his glasses with his handkerchief, "I know a bad egg, but I never laid one."—Tit-Bits.

SPOTLIGHTS

"Singin' Skule" This Week.

Under the compelling rod of Jerome Robbins and the more than compelling tongue of Arabella Robbins, his wife, about forty or more of our local people will stage an ideal "Singin' Skule" next Thursday night, April 30, at the Y. M. C. U. of the St. Paul's Universalist church.

The mistress and master of the skule will be impersonated by Mr. and Mrs. J. Bassett Willard, and under their guidance which will be sometimes kind and forbearing, and other times cross and foreboding, the "Skollars" accompanied by a "Skule" and "Visitin' Kummittee" and the "Alumnae" will show the congregation what real singing was about forty or fifty years ago. This entertainment was pulled off in Cincinnati a short time ago to an audience that completely filled the great Music hall, and in Indianapolis every year it packs the Caleb-Mills hall, the largest auditorium in the city, and in Chicago, three times this season to very large audiences.

From the reports of the "Skollars" there is a lot of fun brewing and any one who misses the "Singin' Skule Begimment" will miss a rich laughing treat. Seats will be on sale at Heberd's drug store, corner of Fourth and Main, Wednesday morning.

FASHION HINTS

A News Sermon.

In the following one is reminded that the editors do not write all the sermons in the daily papers:

SALFEM, Mass.—Harry H. Lebaron, 17 years old, shot and killed his wife, to whom he was married in February, and then committed suicide. Notes left by the couple showed that they had agreed to die together. Despondency because the young husband could not secure employment is ascribed as the cause of the tragedy.

The shooting occurred in the house of the young man's father, where the couple lodged. This note, written by the wife, was pinned to an embroidered shirt waist that had been laid on a desk in the room. It was addressed to elder Mrs. Lebaron, and read as follows:

"When I am buried please have this waist put on me. It is the prettiest one I have and is the one I was married in."

Mrs. Lebaron was the same age as her husband.

THE NEW STYLES FOR WOMEN.

"If the new summer gowns have a conspicuous note at all this year it is in their trimmings, which seem to stand out in bold relief," says Grace Margaret Gould in Woman's Home Companion for May.

"Much so-tache in all widths and heavy cotton braids are used, in white and dyed to match the fabric. In the skirt and coat suits the outline of the coat is shown by the line of braiding, and either braid or buttons not infrequently trim the back."

"Tassels are very much used wherever a place for them can be found. The heavy and the fine laces are fashionable in combination, for trimming both gowns and separate blouses."

"Very narrow satin plaitings are much used as a trimming for silk voile and net gowns. They are often introduced in some brilliant shade, such as emerald green, on a gown of neutral tint. Plaitings of this style frequently simulate a bib effect on the bodice and outline a tunic effect in the skirt."

"Buttons are used not only where they are needed, but where they are not needed on the new gowns. For the tailored suits there are the fabric-covered buttons and the braid buttons."

"The white and colored cotton crocheted buttons are extremely high style, and for lingerie waists they are the new pearl bead buttons."

A TEST OF SENTIMENT

Mr. Taft's managers made an open fight for the Wisconsin delegation to the Chicago convention. No other state could furnish a clearer test of the sentiment of republican voters, for in Wisconsin all such questions are submitted directly to the voters under a modern and enlightened system of direct nominations both for office and for delegates to act in convention. And in the Wisconsin test Mr. Taft's effort to gain the republican delegation was defeated by 60,000.

Since Mr. Taft tried for the Wisconsin delegation when he refrained from a similar experiment in the other great republican states he must have felt that he was stronger there than in New York, for example, or Pennsylvania or Illinois or Indiana.

Yet in Wisconsin, where he must have thought he had a chance to win or he would not have risked the exposure of his popular weakness at the polls, how much weaker must he be in the other great republican states where he dared not make the test and have the record of his destitution of votes to face in the convention which is to nominate the republican candidate for president!—New York Press.

JUST LIFE

There's a lot of difference between contentment and happiness.

Before Rev. John Faville of Appleton barred the "Merry Widow" hat he should have read this thriller from St. Louis:

"Merry Widow" hats, massed in a solid bank in the foremost rows of St. John's Catholic church, Soudard and Seventeenth streets, prevented a panic among the worshippers by hiding from the congregation a dangerous fire on the altar which was extinguished by a priest and two altar boys."

THE PAUPER OF PARK LANE

By William Le Queux

"And you know there has not been a tragedy?"

"Ah! no. There you are mistaken. I have no knowledge whatever."

"Only surmise?"

"Only surmise."

"Based upon what Maud told you—eh?" he asked at last, bringing the conversation to the point.

"What Maud told me has nothing whatever to do with my surmise," was her quick reply. "It is a surmise, pure and simple."

"And you have no foundation of fact for it?"

"None, dear."

Max was disappointed. He sat smoking, staring straight before him. At the tables around, beneath the trees, well-dressed people were chatting and laughing in the dim light, while the military band opposite played the newest waltz. But he heard it not. He was only thinking of how he could clear up the mystery of the strange disappearance of his dearest friend. He glanced at the soft face of the sweet girl at his side, that was so full of affection and yet so sphinx-like.

She would tell him nothing. Again and again she had refused to betray the confidence of her friend.

For the thousandth time he reflected upon that curious and startling incident he had seen with his own eyes in Cromwell Road, and of the inexplicable discovery he had made. He had not met Rolfe, that he should keep away from him was, in itself, suspicious. Without a doubt he knew the truth.

Max wondered whether Charlie had told his sister anything—whether he had told her the truth, and the reason of her determination not to speak was not to incriminate him. He knew in what strong affection she held her brother—how she always tried to shield his faults and magnify his virtues. Yet was it not only what might be very naturally supposed that she would do? Charlie was always very good to her. To him, she owed practically everything.

And so he wondered, smoking in silence while the band played and the after-dinner idlers gossiped and flirted on that dimly-lit lawn. He pondered when later on he took her to Oxford Street by the "tube," and saw her to the corner of the street in which Cunningham's barracks were situated, and he pondered as he drove along Piccadilly to the Traveller's to have a final drink before going home.

Next morning, about eleven, he was in his pleasant bachelor sitting-room in Dover Street going over some accounts from his factor up in Scotland, when the door opened and Charlie Rolfe entered, exclaimed in his usual hearty way:

"Halloo, Max, old chap, how are you?"

Barclay looked up in utter surprise. The visit was entirely unexpected, and so intimate a friend was Rolfe that he always entered unannounced.

In a moment, however, he recovered himself.

"Why, Charlie," he exclaimed, motioning him to a low easy chair on the other side of the fire-place, "you're quite a stranger. Where have you been all this long time?"

"Oh! I thought you knew through Marion. I've been up in Glasgow. Had a lot of worries at the works—labour trouble and all that sort of thing," he replied. "Those Scotch workmen are utterly incorrigible, but I must say that it's due to agitators from our side of the border."

"Yes; I saw something in the papers the other day about an impending strike. Have a cigar?" and he pushed the box towards his friend.

"There would have been a strike if the old man hadn't put his foot down. The men held a meeting and reconsidered their position. It's well for them they did, otherwise I had orders to close down the whole works for six months—or for a year, if need be."

"But you'd have lost very heavily, wouldn't you?"

"Lost? I should rather think so. We should have had to pay damages for breach of contract with the Italian railways to the tune of a nice round sum. But what does it matter to the governor. When he takes a stand against what he calls the tyranny of labour he doesn't count the cost."

"Well," sighed Max, looking across at Marion's brother, "it's rather nice to be in such a position, and yet—"

"And yet it isn't all honey to be in his shoes—eh? No, Max, it isn't," he said. "I know more about old Sam than most men, and I tell you I'd rather be as I am than stifled by wealth as he is. He's a millionaire in gold, but a pauper in happiness."

"I can't help thinking that his unhappiness must, in a great measure, be due to himself," Max remarked, wondering why Charlie had visited him after this length of time. "I think if I had his money I should try and get some little enjoyment out of it. Other wealthy men have yachts, or motor cars, or other hobbies. Why doesn't he?"

"Because he doesn't care for spot. He told me once that in his younger days abroad he was as keen a sportsman as anybody. But now-a-days he's too old for it, and prefers his arm-chair."

"And yet he isn't a very old man, is he?"

"Sometimes wealth rejuvenates a man, but more often the worry of it ages him prematurely," Rolfe remarked. "I only got back from Glasgow again last night and I thought I'd look in and see you. Seen Marion lately?"

"I was with her at Earl's Court last night. She's all right."

Then a silence fell between the pair. Rolfe lit the cigar he had been slowly twisting between his fingers. Max looked furtively into his friend's face, trying to read what secret thought lay behind. Charlie, however, preserved his usual easy, nonchalant air as he leaned back in his chair, his weed between his teeth and his hands clasped behind his head.

"Look here, Charlie," Max exclaimed at last, in a tone of confidence. "I want to ask you something."

The other started visibly, and his cheeks went just a trifle paler.

"Well, go on, old chap." He laughed uneasily. "What is it?" And then he held his breath.

"It's about old Statham."

"About old Statham!" the other echoed, breathing freely again.

"Yes. Do you know that there are going about London a lot of queer stories regarding that house of his in Park Lane—I mean a lot more stories."

"More stories!" laughed the private secretary. "Well, what are people saying now?"

"Oh, all sorts of weird and ridiculous things."

"What is one of them? I'm interested, for they never tell me anything."

"Because they know you to be connected with the place," Max remarked. "Well, just now there are about a dozen different tales going the rounds, and all sorts of hints against the old man."

"Set about by those with whom he has refused to associate—eh?"

"Probably concocted by spiteful gossips, I should think. Some of them bear upon the face of them their own refutation. For instance, I've heard that the reason lights are seen upstairs is because there's a mysterious Mrs. Statham and her family living there in secret. Nobody has seen them, and they never go out."

"Oh! And what reason is given for that?"

"Because they say she's a Turkish woman, and that he still keeps her secluded as she has been ever since a child. The story goes that she's a very beautiful woman, daughter of one of the most powerful Pashas in Constantinople, who escaped from her mother's harem and got away over the frontier into Bulgaria, where Statham joined her, and they were married in Paris."

Rolfe laughed aloud. The idea of old Sam being an actor in such a love romance was distinctly amusing.

"They call him Statham Pasha, I suppose! Well, really, it is the very latest, just as though there may not be lights upstairs when the old man goes to bed."

"Of course," said Max. "But the fact that the old man refuses to allow anybody in the house has given rise to all these stories. You really ought to tell him."

"What shall I tell him? Is there any other gossip?"

"Yes," replied Max, looking the secretary straight in the face in suspicion that he knew more about the mysteries of that house than he really did. "There's another strange story, which I heard two or three days ago, to the effect that one night recently a person was seen to go there secretly, being admitted at once. Then

WISCONSIN SWEEP BY A BLIZZARD

SNOW FALLING OVER THE STATE THIS MORNING

TEMPERATURE HERE DROPS

Forecast is for Continuation of Winter Weather During this Evening and Probably Tomorrow

A blizzard of no small proportion is raging over the entire state today and La Crosse is getting its full share of the snow. The storm started at La Crosse last evening with a light sprinkling of rain and has grown into a gale.

The wires of Minor and Company are down as a result of the blizzard but no mishaps have been reported along the lines of any of the railroads running into La Crosse.

According to advices received at the weather bureau La Crosse and Green Bay are in the center of the storm although along the lakes the wind is raging fiercely.

ANTON HANSON BURIED TODAY

R. R. FARES WILL BE HIGHER MAY 1

WESTERN PASSENGER ASSOCIATION AGREED UPON RATES

WISCONSIN ALSO INCLUDED

Western States, Including Wisconsin, are Affected by New Ruling on Second Class Rates

After May 1, persons traveling to points in the west and northwest will find that fares are higher. All railroads in the Western Passenger association have agreed upon a tariff which does away with second class rates—that is when such rate is less than $40. This means that every traveler, whether he rides in a Pullman, tourist sleeper or chair coach, will have to pay what is now the first class fare. Second class fares, heretofore permitted one to ride in a chair coach. Only by paying the higher or first class fare, could one ride in a Pullman or a tourist sleeper.

The new rule will effect the rate from Kansas City to practically all of the principal western cities, excepting coast points, to which the second class rate is $40, and will consequently remain in force. The rate to Reno, Nev., is also $40, and will be unchanged. There has been a difference of close to $2.50 usually between the first and second class fares. At present the second class rate from Kansas City is $27.50, and the first class rate is $29.40. After the first of May there will be only one rate, $29.40.

Second class fares are to be abolished on same date between points in the following states: Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, South Dakota, North Dakota, Ohio, Nebraska, Alabama, Florida, (except to Key West), Georgia (except to Gainesville), Illinois, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Manitoba, Mississippi.

To districts beyond those named, rates will be as follows: Second class rates will be abolished to Chicago and Mississippi river points. Existing rates will hold good beyond.

CART PUSHED OVER HIS TOES

JACOB ARENZ LIKES THE "GOLDEN WEST"

GATHERING OF ANTI-SALOONISTS ON NORTH SIDE

ALL PLEDGED TO SECRECY

Pastors Refuse to Give Out Their Plans, and Saloonkeepers Preparing to Protect Themselves

Much speculation and no small amount of comment has been caused among the saloonkeepers on the North side by the secret meetings of the Law and Order league. It is expected that the big mass meeting to be held tonight will be largely attended and in all probability some "hot" measures will be adopted.

Although nothing can be learned from the members of the league, they being pledged to secrecy, it is believed an effort will be made for the enforcement of the Sunday closing law, and that efforts will be made to have the licenses of two or three alleged disreputable saloons revoked. In response to inquiries this morning different members of the league simply responded to the questions with "can't give out anything against the rules." That was all they would say.

PAVING DELAYED BY THE STORM

The work of grading Kane street preparatory to paving was to have started on the North Side this morning, but owing to the severe storm was postponed until tomorrow. After the grading is completed the work of paving will start and in all probability will be completed in the course of a couple of months.

The work of repairing the Onalaska road has been completed with the exception of the rolling. This was started this morning but owing to the snow and rain was called off until a more suitable time.

ATHLETES DEFEAT ONALASKA TEAM

In an interesting game of ball yesterday the Athletes trimmed up the Onalaska team by a score of 12 to 1. Kohn for the Athletes was invincible and Onalaska could not land a hit. SWITCHMEN LOSE TO THE BADGERS

A SHORT SERMON ON REGULARITY IN ADVERTISING

There is an old adage which says: "Seldom seen, soon forgotten." It is a true adage—true of almost everything and especially true of advertising as applied to business prosperity. A business grows in sure proportion to the regularity with which it is kept in the public eye and memory.

A fair trial of the merits of advertising as a business builder cannot be made if you advertise sporadically. The regular longtime advertisements beats down the barriers and clears the way to enlarged patronage.

Shopping conditions have assumed a radical change over former years. Years ago when nearly every article of wearing apparel had to be made at home or sent to a dressmaker or tailor, and even things to eat had to be prepared far in advance, the house wife bought in larger quantities and made her shopping tours less frequent. Regardless of weather and other conditions supplies were prepared far in advance. But today, one can step in a store and buy most anything desired, ready made for immediate use. At the present day people buy from day to day just as they need the goods. Everyday something is needed in every home and the housewife makes her shopping tours more frequent than in former years.

Mr. Advertiser, if you establish in the minds of the people the fact that you are going to have an announcement in the TRIBUNE every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday or every day of the week you will get the people in the habit of looking on those days to see what you have to offer. Today, shoppers, as a rule, select from the different advertisements articles they want to see. They make up a schedule of the offerings and go directly to the stores they have on the list. With the housewife, time is just as precious as a man in business and in this manner they systematize time and effort and economize both as to time and money. Comparatively few shoppers start out in an aimless sort of way.

Now these are hard facts—not simply theories. They will stand the searchlight of investigation. They are gleaned from the hard school of experience. Now take it from me—you will be surprised at the results you can obtain from regular, persistent progressive advertising. People want to be told about the goods you have to sell, but they will never find out if you don't advertise. With a circulation of more than 6,000 and growing greater each day, it is calculated that the TRIBUNE is read by more than 25,000 people in La Crosse and near-by towns.

Let me have a talk with you in person. Call up 323, either phone, and I'll come. You and I can sit down and talk over the matter in detail and I am sure we can arrive at an understanding that will do you a world of good.

HACK-GOTCH PURSE DOUBLED

NEW YORK, April 27.—Doubling an offer made by an English syndicate for a return match between George Hackenschmidt and Frank Gotch, Tom O'Rourke, who took Joe Rogers over to England to wrestle the lion before he met defeat on this side, has announced that he will give a purse of $20,000 for a bout between the two giants in New York in June.

There is little chance, it is thought, of getting the Russian back here for such a match. Gotch is feared by the foreigner, who openly stated after the match, before getting up his excuses, that Frank was too much for him.

GANS IS NOW ON BAT'S TRAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 27. The tide of affairs between Joe Gans and Battling Nelson has changed. About six months ago Nelson was hot on the trail of Joe Gans for a match. Now it is Gans who is seeking a battle with the Dane. This is no reflection on Joe's part, but he declares he can see where Bat is sidestepping him and he wants to make it a sure thing.

Gans, through his manager, Ben Selig, has stated that he will fight Nelson at 133 pounds ringside, stripped, in June. He will box twenty or forty-five rounds and will sign a ticket if Nelson puts up a $5,000 side bet.

SPRING GRIDIRON WORK AT MICH.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 27.—Coach Yost is expected today to take the men out for spring football practice, and one of the features of the year will be two spring games. These will be the regular contests between eleven selected from the squad of fifty men. Thirty-four of the squad are veterans. Brenbrook of Morgan park and Peterson of Escanaba are said to be promising. The team is expected to average more than 200 pounds next fall.

FIRST HERESY CASE.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 27.—"This is my first case of heresy," said Bishop Samuel C. Edsell of the Minneapolis Episcopal diocese today, regarding the case of Rev. Robt. Hammond Cotton, the Minneapolis rector who in a letter to the bishop denied the accepted theories of the Immaculate Conception and the resurrection.

"I have revoked Rev. Cotton's license, to protect my parish. I hear that he preached his ideas from the pulpit at Benson, Minn. The matter is not yet out of my hands, but I do not know yet what I shall do."

The case has created great discussion here.

LABOR TO GIVE AN ENTERTAINMENT

The Trades and Labor council held a meeting Friday and decided to bring a company that is put on the road by the International Boot and Shoe workers' union here on May 11th. The company has a vaudeville performance together with moving pictures. It is also a very instructive entertainment as there are pictures of different union labels and other things such as machinery which will be of interest to every business man as well as laborer.

ASSESORS PLAN SPRING INQUISITION

The assessors of La Crosse county held their annual conference with Supervisor of Assessments J. E. Keizer, in the court house Saturday.

Mr. Keizer addressed them on the work for the coming year which will commence May 1st. He laid particular stress on the fact that personal property and money are greatly undervalued in assessment roles in all districts of the county. The assessors were instructed to look out for building improvements on all real estate and to place increased values wherever warranted. A number of old assessors spoke on the work giving the new men some very good ideas and making the meetings a most profitable one.

GALESVILLE COLONY OF DUTCH LEAVE

Already a number of the Hollanders who have leased farms in the vicinity of Galesville for a number of years have gone west and it is quite likely that within another year or two not one of the colony will remain. This exodus is due to high rents. Class Andressen, who was one of the first to locate there, has bought land in Montana and will go to that state.

Galesville business men regret the departure of the Holland colonists, as they are as a rule splendid farmers, honest, thrifty and excellent citizens.

AIMEE'S SPOUSE TO FACE CHARGES

HUSBAND OF PRETTY FORGER
IS TO BE EXTRADITED

MADE KICK BUT IT DIDN'T GO

Couple Known in This City as Entertainers of High School Crowds
Under the Law's Thumb

Word has been received at the attorney general's office that the district court in Alabama had upheld the validity of the extradition proceedings brought to secure the return to Minnesota of the husband of Aimee Lloyd, the young woman who was sent to the St. Cloud reformatory from Rochester for passing forged checks. The information states further that Lloyd will appeal the case to the supreme court.

Mrs. Aimee (Sickle) Lloyd, who was a former resident of Winona, was well known in the younger set in La Crosse, having attended many football games here and having passed as an excellent entertainer whenever the high school pupils went to Winona.

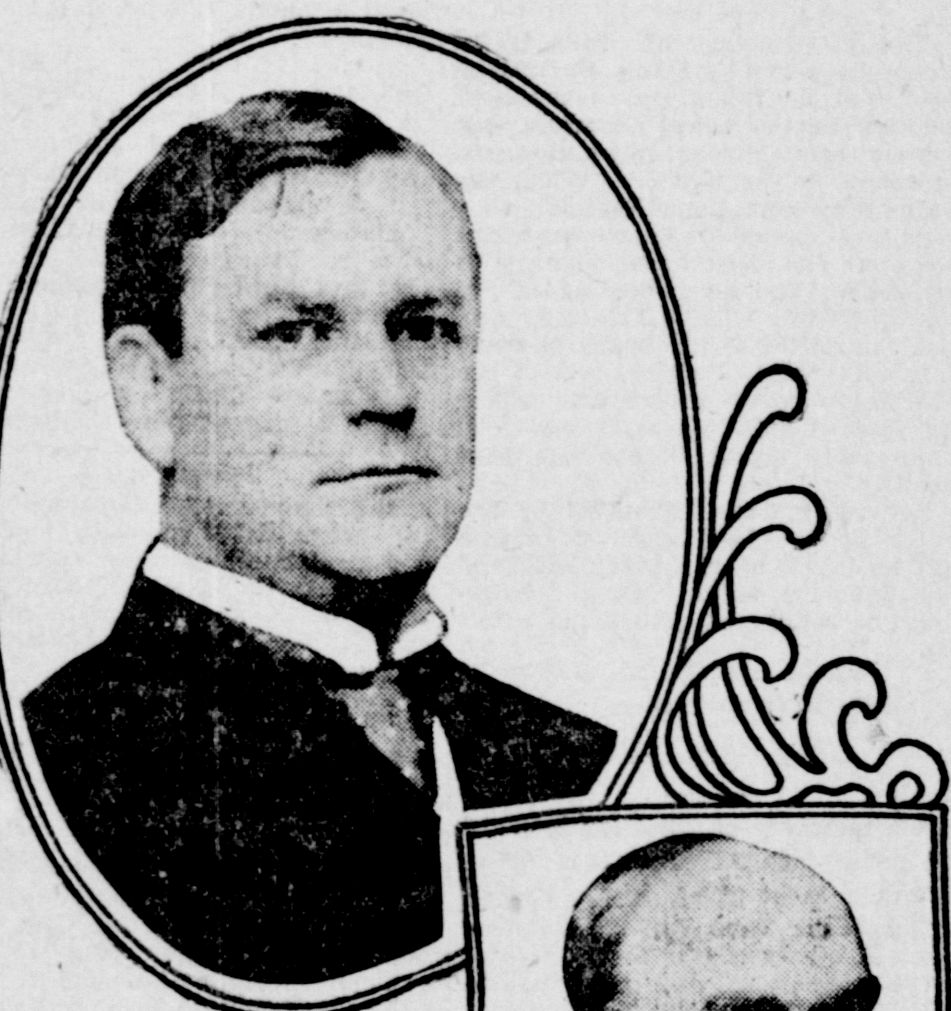

Much Interest.
The case of Aimee Lloyd attracted considerable attention because of her beauty and her former good reputation in Winona. Her husband also was indicted with her, but he was not found in the state of Minnesota and was finally located in Alabama. Extradition proceedings were instituted and were contested by Lloyd, who took the position that he was not a fugitive from justice and hence could not be extradited.

Claimed He Got Money.
His position is that he was not in the state of Minnesota at the time the offense was committed and that although he did return there at the request of his wife to assist in securing her release he again left the state before her indictment was returned. The state asserts that Mrs. Lloyd sent her husband some of the money at the time she requested him to come to her assistance.

BOYS CONVICTED TO SPARTA SCHOOL

Edwin and Norman Widsberg, aged 14 and 8 respectively, were taken to Sparta Saturday where they will be placed in the home for dependent children where they can receive a proper schooling. The mother, Mrs. Sarah Wickberg, of 1540 Charles street, was recently committed to the asylum for the insane at Mendota, Wis.

REPRESENTATIVE GEORGE FOSS IS AFTER SENATOR HOPKINS' SCALP

HON. GEORGE FOSS.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 25.—Senator Albert J. Hopkins of Illinois is likely to have a strenuous fight on his hands for re-election this year. It is rumored that Representative Geo. E. Foss of the Evanston-Lakeview district will soon be an avowed candidate for the senate.

If Mr. Foss decides to go into the contest for the senate he may stir up a lively campaign. He is in a particularly fortunate position because he has been nominated for the house and he has his district solidly behind him. No one would ask him to resign until after the result of the August primaries had been announced.

Most people do not understand that George Edmund Foss has broken all records as a representative from the city of Chicago. He has served 12 years in the house of representatives and is now well along in his seventh term. No other representative from Chicago has ever served so long continuously. This makes Foss dean of the Illinois delegation with the exception, of course, of Speaker Cannon himself, who, however, is not now on the floor.

He will be 45 years old this year, is a Harvard graduate, and was admitted to the bar in Chicago in 1889. In the last election Mr. Foss had a plurality of over 10,000 votes, so that he is living undoubtedly on easy street so far as re-election is concerned.

As this is to be the first popular primary, when the people will have

SOCIETY

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY.

A very pleasant birthday party took place last Friday, when Miss Neva West was surprised by a number of her young friends, who came in the afternoon and remained during the evening. Games and a social time enlivened the afternoon and at 6 o'clock the merry makers gathered round a bountiful laden supper table. Dancing was the amusement of the evening and ice cream and cake were served between dances. The young hostess received many pretty presents from her friends. Those present were: Meta Mueller, Lois Hallick, Josephine Wiggemhorn, Hazel Smith, Louise Zeisler, Edith Pryor, Mary O'Connell, Alice Pryor, Hazel Ruplin, Elsie Reigger, Helen Fox and Clara Bailey.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt of 415 West avenue north entertained a number of their friends on Sunday afternoon in honor of the sixth birthday of their daughter Ruth. A fine supper was served and in the center of the table was a beautiful birthday cake illuminated with six candles.

Miss Ruth received many useful and pretty gifts. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Schreiter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoelger, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schmidt, and Mrs. Frank Fantschert.

Mrs. Henry Trepte has gone to Bangor for a few weeks' visit with her parents. Mr. Trepte left for Red Wing, Minn., where he has gone to superintend some work.

WORKMEN TRUSTEES WOULD PAY LAWYERS

The creditors of the Wisconsin grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen have been asked to meet and consider the petition of the trustees to be authorized to pay its attorneys the sum of $100 for services rendered.

The petition of the Fidelity Trust company, trustees, shows that since the lodge was plunged into bankruptcy $28,905.42 has been collected for the estate, dividends of 23 per cent have been paid to creditors, and $2,300 remains on hand. It is stated all of the assets have been converted into cash with the exception of the claim against the supreme lodge of the order. The latter claim is to be adjudicated by the courts, Judge Quarles having recently authorized the trustees to bring an action to be due as a portion of the guarantee fund maintained.

NORTHWEST IN BRIEF

ALMOST DEAD FROM HUNGER

Patrick Flynn, Colorado Laborer, Has Victuals, but Has Nothing to Chew Them With

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., April 27.—Almost dead from hunger and unable to buy food, Patrick Flynn, a laborer, hit on the novel plan of pawning his teeth. He raised $1, but now that he has the wherewith to purchase the eatables his teeth are gone, and he has nothing with which to chew his food.

It is a case of out of the frying pan into the fire with Pat and he is unable to figure a way out of the dilemma.

The teeth are in possession of Dr. T. J. Horna of Glenwood, and he has attempted to return them to Flynn, but the latter declares a bargain is a bargain, and that it would not be honorable in him to take back the teeth.

JAILBREAKER STUCK IN CELL WINDOW

ST. CLOUD, Minn., April 27.—Edward Carmody and Pat Sheehan, who are in jail charged with the attempted murder of Officer Becker of this city, nearly made their escape Saturday night.

The prisoners are on the second floor of the county jail, and had succeeded in hauling an old trunk near the cell and breaking a piece of iron from it. This they used to file off two bars an inch in diameter from the cell, making an opening of eight inches. The prisoners have been at work filling for the past three weeks. Last night both stripped and greased their bodies with soap. Carmody got half way through the opening when he stuck, his body swelling. His shrieks awakened the sheriff in the other part of the jail and another bar had to be filed away before the prisoners could be released from his position.

PLAN CLUB FOR BOYS

FARIBAULT, Minn., April 27.—Prominent women of Faribault are planning to establish an association for boys and young men of Faribault, similar to the plan of the Y. M. C. A., only of local scale. Several attempts have been made by boys to form such a club, but have been a failure. As soon as suitable quarters can be secured a reading room and gymnasium will be established. The association will be in charge of Mr. Lyon of the manual training department of the public schools.

BLOWS UP BEDBUGS

LEAD, S. D., April 27.—Residents in South Lead were all interested in an effort on the part of Mrs. Carl Russell to exterminate some "pesky bedbugs" in their family home in this city. When it was discovered by the family that a remedy was needed a goodly quantity of gasoline was freely applied to the woodwork and furniture in the bedrooms. The rooms were closed up tightly, and in the evening when Mr. Russell came home and struck a match in the room the impregnated air exploded and took fire immediately.

DAKOTAN IN DUEL KILLS TWO FOES

RANGER DECEIVED INTO MEXICO IS SHOT BY POLICE

FATALLY WOUNDED IN BATTLE

Gets "Drop" on Officers Who Approach With Drawn Gun—Alleged to be a Plot

VERMILION, S. D., April 27.—Jefferson P. Kidder, the former Vermilion young man who for the last five years has been a ranger for Uncle Sam, with headquarters at Naco, Arizona, is dead from wounds received in a revolver duel with Mexican police at Naco, N. M., which is just across the border line. He received two bullet wounds, either of which would have resulted in his death, though he lived ten days after the shooting.

According to information received from Arizona, Kidder had gone across the line to visit supposed friends and at the time of the shooting he was in a saloon. He had some trouble with occupants of the place, and a policeman was called to arrest him. The sight of a Mexican policeman approaching him with revolver drawn did not set well with Kidder, and he immediately pulled out his own weapon and fired before the officer knew what was coming. Kidder's aim was low, and the bullet struck the policeman in the knee, shattering the bone. Two other policemen rushed to the assistance of their fallen officer, and one of them succeeded in bringing Kidder to the floor with a bullet.

But the plucky ranger, after he was down, kept on firing, and succeeded in killing both of the policemen. It is charged by Kidder's friends that after he was down and out, and could not further harm any one, and he immediately jumped on him, kicked him, and otherwise injured him. Kidder's dying statement was to the effect that while he lay wounded on the floor he was brutally kicked and beaten and clubbed over the head with a rifle. A post-mortem examination revealed the fact that several of Kidder's ribs had been broken, and that he had several bad scalp wounds.

Arizona papers assert that Kidder was the victim of a deliberate plot; that he was deceived across the international line intentionally and that the quarrel was started to give his enemies a chance to "get" him. Kidder was one of the best known officers on the ranger force, and had made some enemies across the line. He was reputed to be the quickest man with a gun on the force, and at thirty paces had demonstrated time and again that he could hit a plying card at three times out of five.

ROB FOR APPETITES' SAKE

RAPID CITY, S. D., April 27.—Thieves, merely bent on having a good smoke and content to fill themselves with the "striped" ice cream in the rear of the store, plundered the drug store of C. D. Matteson of this city. When the proprietor arrived in the morning he found that the thieves had not touched the cash drawer, but twelve boxes of the choicest cigars and a quantity of ice cream had disappeared.

Remarkable Picture of British Public Men

(Copyright by Underwood & Underwood, New York.)

LONDON, April 27.—At this time of so many changes in the British cabinet this picture is especially interesting. It was taken just outside of St. Margaret's church, Westminster.

Reading from left to right the men in the group are: Mr. H. H. Asquith, who is to succeed Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman as premier of England; Mr. Louis Harcourt, first commissioner of the board of works; in the center is the Marquis of Ripon; then comes Lord Privy Seal, Earl of Crew, new secretary for the colonies, and immediately behind him Lord Tweedmouth, president of the colonies.

CHICAGO, April 27.—Cattle dropped from 10 to 15c today under large shipments. Hogs fell off 10c, and receipts were large, while sheep also lost 10 to 15c. The whole tone of the market was depressing. Cattle—31,000; heaves, $6.10 to $7.25; stockers, $3.50 to $5.60. Hogs—43,000; light, $5.05 to $5.55; heavy, $5.25 to $5.55; pigs, $4.10 to $4.90. Sheep—22,000; natives, $4.75 to $6.25; lambs, $5.75 to $7.50.

Stocks Fairly Active

NEW YORK, April 27.—The market continued strong and fairly active in the speculative issues. A large part of the buying was regarded as covering of shorts. The trouble experienced in renewing stock borrowing was the most important market factor during the early trading. The first few minutes of trading in the first few minutes of Union Pacific, New York Central, St. Paul and Pennsylvania and fractional gains were made in number of other active railroad stocks. Government bonds unchanged; others firm.

VIROQUA HAS AN EXCITING RUNAWAY

VIROQUA, Wis., April 27.—(Special.)—Martin Everson had an exciting runaway last Wednesday noon as he was driving on South Main street. The horse became frightened at some piles of material for the cement sidewalks and ran up into Dr. Lauder's yard, throwing Lloyd Gorsline, who was with Mr. Everson, out, and Mr. Everson was thrown against one of the trees in such a manner as to injure his back. Dr. Lauder had just come in with his rig and picked Mr. Everson up and carried him home. Mr. Everson was able to move his arms some on Friday, and it is thought that he will in time recover, though his back has given him very severe pain.

Walton Pyre (who is at the head of the School of Acting of Milwaukee), has been engaged at Viroqua this week in drilling the contestants for the oratorical contest on Friday evening, gave an entertainment on Tuesday evening to a large audience at the High School auditorium. A selection of French-Canadian dialect was perhaps most enjoyed, although Mr. Pyre proved himself a master of tragedy and carried the audience with him in his humorous selections.

Tobacco will be received at Viroqua for six weeks and the prices paid are said to be a little better than at the first of the season, probably owing to the influence of the farmers organizing.

Miss Valla Smely is spending several days at Albert Lea with her parents.

Miss Ella Smith, who has been in poor health for some time, is at one of the La Crosse hospitals in a critical condition and relatives have been summoned to be with her.

Mrs. Mary Humbert died Friday morning after a long illness. Some weeks ago she was taken to the hospital for an operation for removal of gall stones, but the surgeons pronounced her trouble to be of a cancerous nature too far advanced for relief.

Henry Lindemann is spending the week at Chicago.

Mrs. Nellie Buckley has traded her tenant house in the southern part of the city with Earl Truesdale for the A. D. Helgeson home which Mr. Truesdale recently purchased. Mr. Truesdale says he is not going to trade or move again, but will make that his future home.

Mrs. Arne Arneson of Victory is a guest of the Groh family.

H. P. Larson has recently disposed of one of the three houses to James Sterry which Mr. Larson purchased from Mrs. Gott.

NO MERRY WIDOW
HATS SAYS PASTOR

REV. JOHN FAVILLE BARS THEM
FROM HIS CHURCH

IS REV. FAVILLE'S BROTHER

Pastor Claims That He Cannot Tell
Who is Awake and Who Isn't
When Hats are Worn

APPLETON, Wis., April 27.—"There are two main reasons why I want the ladies of the First Congregational church to come to service next Sunday prepared to remove their hats," said Dr. John Faville from the pulpit yesterday. One reason, he said, was because the men of the audience were unable to see over or around the "Merry Widow" and another is that he himself is unable to see whether the men are awake or asleep.

The matter of removal of hats during the church services has been agitated in Appleton for some weeks and a number of men who since the arrival of the massive headgear this spring abandoned church attendance yesterday announce their intention of returning at least once every Sunday.

It is said other pastors will follow the example set by Mr. Faville.

The Appleton pastor is a brother of Rev. Henry Faville, pastor of the Congregational church of this city.

STATE FIRE LOSS IS VERY LARGE

MADISON, Wis., April 27.—(Special.)—Two electric storms in the state this year have caused a loss of $10,385, according to a bulletin issued by State Fire Marshal T. M. Purtell today.

"With but two electric storms so far this year, four losses within the state have been reported to this department destroying property to the extent of $10,385," says the bulletin. "Practically the unanimous opinion of authorities, who have given the subject a careful study and consideration, leads to the conclusion that science today offers almost a positive protection against property loss from this source through the medium of improved and properly constructed lightning rods.

Fire Loss is Enormous
"This loss has been so enormous and has increased so rapidly with the decrease of timber that the importance of the subject has led scientific investigation to be made, not only by those who are interested in a commercial way, but also by our own national government and in a recently issued pamphlet by the experiment station at Washington the value of properly erected lightning rods has been very largely urged and has even gone so far as to adopt a system of protection from lightning for all the buildings in the various yards of the United States navy."

The bulletin goes on to explain that insurance companies are doing everything possible to keep down the losses by fire and are endeavoring to furnish protection at the least rate possible, which will furnish them a living profit.

Will Soon Refuse Insurance
"The question of lightning losses and the measure of protection furnished by the lightning rod has been receiving a good deal of attention and consideration for the past few years, and while material results are not shown to a very large extent as yet, there is no question but that the time is coming soon, when buildings provided with approved protection will be insured at a lower rate than similar buildings, which are not protected."

One western insurance company makes the reductions for protected buildings, as 20 per cent below the regular rate is allowed on all barns protected with rods; 10 per cent on dwellings, churches and school houses, and 10 per cent on livestock in pastures, where wire fences are properly grounded.

EAU CLAIRE MAN
CATCHES BIG FISH

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., April 27.—William Lowe of this city caught one of the largest fish ever seen in this city. It was some time before its species could be determined. Some pronounced it a channel cat, others a cross between a swordfish and a German carp. Finally a committee of three of the oldest citizens after having carefully adjusted their glasses decided it was a side-hill ghanter. This is a rare species of the finny tribe that used to be caught during the time of full moon by baiting the hook with a piece of red flannel and cheese rind. It is nearly ten years since the last ghanter was caught in this vicinity.

MAKE MOVE TO LENGTHEN TERMS

KENOSHA, Wis., April 27.—Sheriff Roberts of Racine county was in Kenosha for a conference with Sheriff Fennig about a meeting of sheriffs in Wisconsin to be held in connection with the national sheriff's convention in Minneapolis next July. Roberts' plan is to organize the sheriffs to secure legislation which will make the term of sheriff four years instead of two.

GIRL SHOT BY
LOVER MAY DIE

BULLETS FIRED BY HERBST

GIRL'S SISTER IS BLAMED

Generally Believed That Suicide Had Planned the Double Tragedy
for Some Time

WAUKESHA, Wis., April 27.—Emma Knagendorf, who was shot on Friday night on the grounds of the Waukesha Springs sanitarium by her sweetheart, Fred Herbst, who killed himself, has a slight chance of recovery. It is believed, however, she can not survive.

From a letter it is thought the young woman's failure to meet Herbst Thursday night as he requested was the immediate cause of the tragedy. The letter asked her to meet him, but she did not keep the engagement. Enraged at this, it is believed, Herbst went to the sanitarium Friday night for the express purpose of killing the girl and himself. In a statement to a relative Miss Knagendorf said she demurred at accompanying Herbst Friday evening but finally consented. As they passed down the walk from the sanitarium to the street he suddenly whipped out a revolver and with the exclamation that he would kill himself, pressed the weapon to her breast and fired twice.

Bullets Can Not Be Removed.

Both bullets entered the girl's left breast, penetrating the lung. One passed directly above the heart. From their location they can not be removed. That Herbst held Mrs. Tillie Imig, a sister of his sweetheart, with whom she resided, responsible for their estrangement, is shown by a letter found on his person addressed to Mrs. Imig, in which he bitterly upbraids her. The letter, while written by Herbst, is signed "Fred and Emma," the intention evidently having been to create the impression that a suicide pact existed. Two other letters were found, one addressed to the local lodge of the Knights of Pythias, of which Herbst was a member, expressing regret at bringing disgrace on the lodge, and asking that he be accorded the same consideration that would be shown any other member, and the other to his father, Leonard Herbst of Sparta, which contained a sum of money and gave directions as to his burial. The father came here after the body.

GOVERNOR INJURED IN BAD FALL

MADISON, Wis., April 27.—After Gov. Davidson had shaved Friday night and was turning away from the mirror, he slipped on the polished floor and fell on his left side. In trying to break his fall he threw out his left arm, which was caught beneath his body. When he arose his hip and shoulder were bruised.

When he arose this morning he found his left arm and hand greatly swollen, and painful. Drs. C. and W. E. Jackson were called and found the arm so swollen they could not determine whether any bones were broken or split. They put the arm in splints.

SCHOOL TEACHER

APPLETON, Wis., April 27.—Ireland's patron saint did no more for the people of the Emerald Isle when he drove the snakes from its shores than did Miss Florence Archibold for the thirty-five pupils in her school in Liberty, when she killed thirteen wriggling, tortuous reptiles that had intruded themselves upon their entrance before a boy, who espied them,

HORSE DASHES INTO CROWD

WAUKESHA, Wis., April 27.—During a street meeting of the Holy Jumpers, which attracted a crowd of several hundred at the Five Points, a horse owned by John Bowe took fright at an auto and ran away, dashing into the crowd and swerving just in time to avoid crashing into a plate glass window in a jewelry store. No one was injured, but several women fainted.
